International links

Qualification recognition

The French ENIC-NARIC Centre is the national expertise and information centre for academic recognition of foreign qualifications. It promotes international mobility by enabling the interpretation of academic qualification.

RECOGNITION REQUESTS: THE FIVE MAIN COUNTRIES

It actively contributes to the construction of the European Higher Education Area.

International links

Hosting foreign delegations

In 2017, the CIEP hosted 115 people from Asia/Oceania (36 %), from Africa and the Middle East (28 %), from Europe (28 %) and from the Americas (8 %).

The themes addressed were related to school education, higher education and research, or cross-cutting issues.

The Reunion Island local centre

- Created in 2000, it aims to represent the institution and relay its assignments in the Indian Ocean and in southern and eastern Africa
- The objective is to promote French expertise abroad in the field of education and training, and to contribute to France's positive appeal
- The centre offers its expertise and skill in two main areas of activity:
 - Support for teaching in French and teaching of the French language
 - International cooperation in education

Revue internationale d'éducation de Sèvres

- Most of the authors are foreign and take a research approach. 970 authors from 110 countries have been published since 1994.
- Visibility in 2017: more than 530 000 visitors from 100 countries on the website www.revues.org
- Last issues:
 - Conflicting truths at school (n°77)
 - The fragmentation of national school systems
 - Music and education
 - Beginning teachers

Publications and resources

The Document and Resource Centre

- The Document and Resource Centre (CRID) offers a range of extensive services:
 - a library
 - production of desk reviews and bibliographies
 - a strategy watch group
 - knowledge management
- Three main projects in 2017 :
 - the replacement of the current documentary catalogue with a new documentary portal (open in 2018)
 - the production of country infographics
 - the introduction of an information system

A network of experts

- Charter of Expertise (2015)
- The 'Day of the Experts' (2016, 2017 et 2018)
- The Carnets de l'expertise : published in collaboration with the research team "Education, Ethics, Health" of François-Rabelais University (Tours).
They shed light on the professional practices and the knowledges used by experts in international cooperation in education.

A historic setting for symposia and seminars

- Former royal porcelain factory at Sèvres (1756)
- A high-quality reception infrastructure and services:
 - A conference room (125 seats)
 - A prestigious room, the Grande Bibliothèque (100 seats)
