Centre for International Mobility

Global educational reform movement and national education policies

Pasi SAHLBERG, PhD
Director General
CIMO
Helsinki FINLAND

2 December 2010

Common problem

How to transform education systems to better prepare our young people for unpredictable world?

Solution 1:

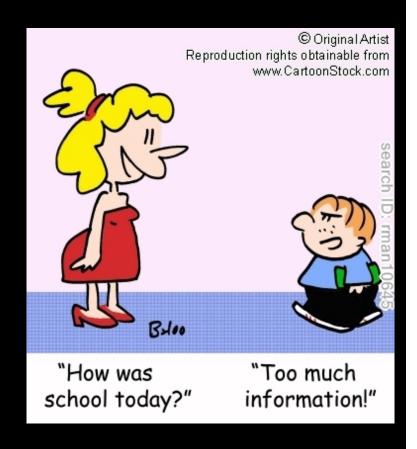

Injecting marketoriented policies into national education systems

Solution 2:

Expanding curriculum content and increasing instructional time

Solution 3:

Increasing testing of students and collecting of data from schools

Consequence:

Most of these system-wide efforts are failing

STANDARDISATION

NUMERACY AND LITERACY

PRE-DETERMINED CURRICULUM

MARKET-ORIENTED POLICIES

TEST-BASED ACCOUNTABILITY

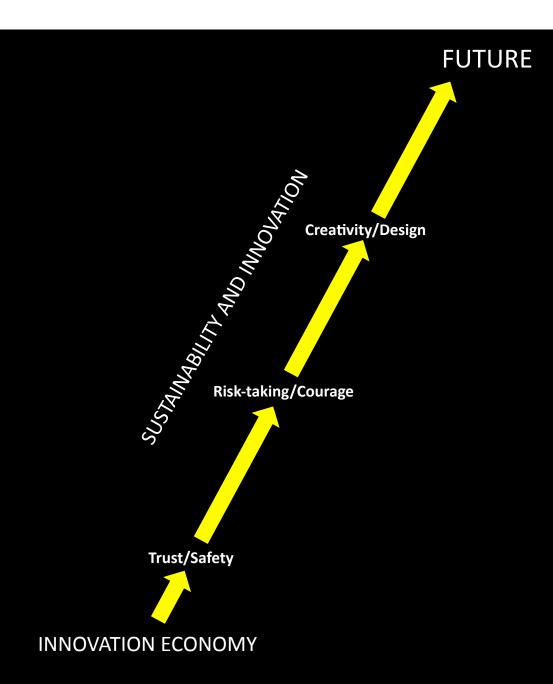

ADMINISTRATIVE LEADERSHIP

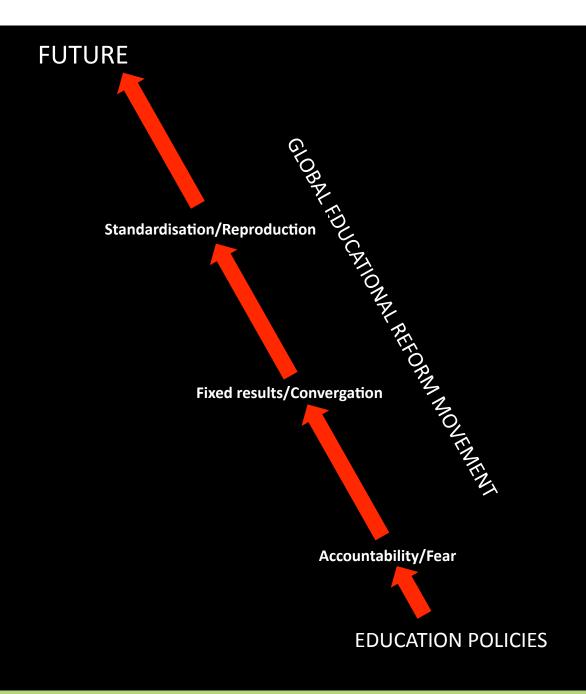

Education policies for innovation and sustainability in Europe

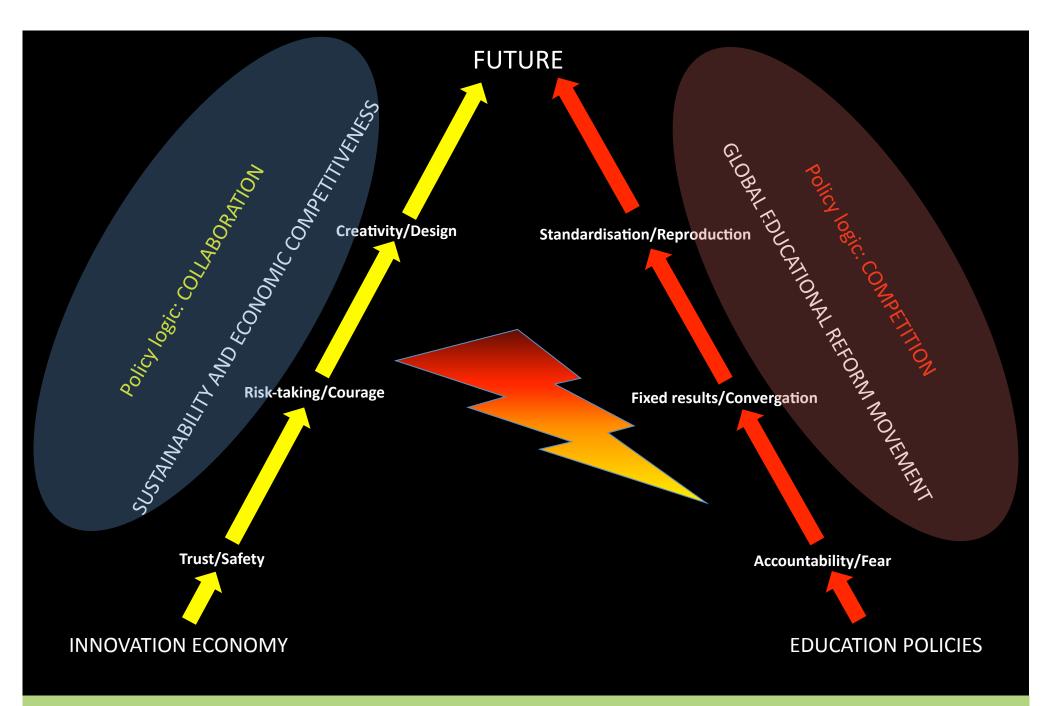

Conclusion:

To prepare themselves for more competitive and sustainable knowledge societies, our schools and students must compete less

What kind of education policies do we need?

CUSTOMISATION

BROAD LEARNING

RISK-TAKING AND CREATIVITY

LEARNING FROM THE PAST

SHARED RESPONSIBILITY

PEDAGOGICAL LEADERSHIP

KIITOS!

